

ANTHROPOLOGY STREAMING VIDEO COLLECTION

INCLUDES:
 Archaeology
 Cultural Anthropology
 Physical Anthropology
 Survey & Basic Concepts

11,600 VIDEO CLIPS
700 FULL-LENGTH VIDEOS AND GROWING!

Aside from fieldwork, a strong collection of anthropology videos is the best way to give students the opportunity to observe people and cultures from around the world. The hundreds of titles in this collection reveal the vast diversity of humankind—with equal emphasis on traditional cultures and the effect that modernity has on them today.

- Conveniently segmented for lecture and in-class use
- Unlimited access from any location—on campus or off
- More than 540 hours of educational videos, lectures, and documentaries from top producers
- Captions, interactive transcripts, citations, Google Translate, and more
- New videos added at no additional cost
- Easily embed videos into Blackboard, Moodle, or other CMS
- Tablet- and mobile-friendly

Use the powerful search and browse tools to find the perfect titles and clips for lectures and assignments.

Once you find the clips you need, use the custom playlist tool or embed code to provide instant access for students through your online course management system.

> Free Trial!

www.infobase.com/Trial

ANTHROPOLOGY STREAMING VIDEO COLLECTION

All titles are segmented into short, pedagogical clips, ideal for intermittent use during classroom lectures. For homework viewing, students can choose to watch an entire film without interruption. Titles within the collection are sorted across 13 distinct, browsable subject categories (e.g., Fieldwork & Analysis, Religion & Rituals, Family & Kinship, Research & Methods), enabling refined searches for available titles in specific topic areas.

Exclusive documentaries on the impact of modernity and the choices tribal people make that ultimately shape their destiny, including:

The Masai Today: Changing Traditions, Last of the Bushmen, The Last Hunter, Tanim: Instituting Democracy in Tribal Papua New Guinea, and others.

More than 40 hours of programming from National Geographic, including:

Titles on indigenous peoples from around the world, cities and civilizations that are lost to time, and how different societies approach issues such as death, the role of the family, the role of women, body image, justice, and more.

Presentations from both TED and Falling Walls Foundation on contemporary issues in anthropology and related fields, including:

Presentations from Wade Davis, Nina Jablonski, Elizabeth Lindsey, Michel Brunet, Rebecca Cassidy, Julie Livingston, Helen Fisher, and others.

EXCLUSIVE

The Story of Nanook and Nanook Revisited

Tell the story of the making of the world's first documentary—Nanook of the

North—and the Inuit people who became the stars of the film.

Here's a sampling of the collection highlights:

EXCLUSIVE & AWARD WINNER

Disappearing World

From the Mursi nomads of Ethiopia and Asante market women of Ghana, to the Vlach Gypsies of Hungary and Sherpas of Nepal, this long-running series presents gripping footage shot between 1970 and 1991 of peoples, events, and places amid profound and irreversible change. Features leading authorities and anthropologists of the day. Thirty hours of programming.

Strangers Abroad

Classic six-hour series documenting the first anthropologists to stop "armchair theorizing" and go live among the people they studied, including Margaret Mead, Sir Walter Spencer, Franz Boas, William Rivers, Bronislaw Malinowski, and Sir Edward Evans-Pritchard.

NEW & EXCLUSIVE

First Australians: The Untold Story

The landmark, multiple award-winning six-and-a-half-hour documentary series chronicling the history of Australia from the perspective of the Aboriginal people.

NEW & AWARD WINNER

The Call of Africa: The Voice of a Continent

A 13-hour ethnographic series on modern-day Africa.

EXCLUSIVE

Living Stones

A 22-part archaeology series on daily life in some of the major civilizations that shaped history.

EXCLUSIVE

The Appalachians

The acclaimed three-hour series illustrating the political, economic, musical, and spiritual history of the "mountain people" of America's Appalachian region.

EXCLUSIVE & AWARD WINNER

Go Back to Where You Came From

Award-winning three-hour documentary/experiment in which Australian citizens embark on month-long journeys following the harrowing trail that a typical "boat person" might have taken during emigration.