TECHNOLOGY & SOCIETY STREAMING VIDEO COLLECTION

All titles are segmented into short, pedagogical clips, ideal for intermittent use during classroom lectures. For homework viewing, students can choose to watch an entire film without interruption. Titles within the collection are sorted across 22 distinct, browsable subject categories (e.g., Gender & Ethnicity in Technology, History of Science & Technology, Technology & Ethical and Legal Issues, Technology Literacy), enabling refined searches for available titles in specific topic areas.

Here's a sampling of the collection highlights:

EXCLUSIVE

A Future of Abundance: Is the World Better Than We Think?

Far from being a doomsday warning, this documentary investigates the idea that rapidly advancing technology will easily provide all humans with basic needs while addressing today's environmental concerns.

EXCLUSIVE

The World According to Google, Google World, and Should We Be Afraid of Google?

A trio of independent documentaries, each with a different approach, that go behind the scenes at one of the world's most influential technology companies.

EXCLUSIVE

Think b4 u Post: Your Reputation and Privacy on Social Networking Sites

A playful yet serious film that warns about unforeseen consequences of indiscriminate posting of pictures and personal details on social media sites.

EXCLUSIVE

Technology: Digital Superbrands

This BBC documentary goes inside the industry to find out what factors enable technology companies to rule today's global economy.

Growing Up Online

This episode of Frontline enters the private worlds that young people live in online, bringing viewers face-to-face with issues kids confront daily—bullying, harassment, alienation, sexuality, and bizarre forms of celebrity.
